Vigil for lost hospital beds

Anders Larsson

Chief reporter | anders@viewnews.co.uk

SEATON residents responded to hospital bed closures by staging a vigil to mark their anger with NEW Devon Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) on Monday, the day on which the beds closed.

Seaton GP and league of friends chairman Dr Mark Welland has pledged to "explore every avenue that might lead to the reopening" of the beds.

The closures – which also include Honiton, Okehampton and Exeter Community hospitals – were announced some time ago amid fierce opposition.

Campaigners have since worked in various ways to try to overturn the decision, and the closures were not expected to happen until autumn at the earliest.

But that changed last week when Royal Devon & Exeter NHS Foundation Trust, which manages the hospitals, said closures would be completed before the end of August or in early September.

Seaton town and county councillor Martin Shaw said prior to the vigil: "We shall be supporting Seaton Town Council's demand that, even at this late stage, Neil Parish MP must intervene with the government to reverse this decision."

"NEW Devon CCG has shamefully ignored the views of the community in Seaton, Colyton, Beer and Axminster and their elected representatives in the town, parish, district and county councils, all of whom have protested against this decision."

Pulman's View asked Mr Parish if he intended to intervene. He did not answer the question but issued a statement saying: "I am deeply saddened by the decision."

"I would like to pay tribute to all the staff who have worked so hard to maintain fantastic in-patient beds at the hospitals over the past years.

"We now have to make the best of the current situation. Every patient who previously required care in the hospitals must now have the same level of care delivered to them at home or in a residential care home.

"This promise must be kept and I will be monitoring the situation carefully.

"Regarding the future of Honiton and Seaton hospitals, I want the buildings to continue to host vital health and social care services."

Seaton based GP and the hospital's league of friends chairman Dr Mark Welland said: "The league of friends is naturally saddened to be witnessing the closure.

"We would like to express our deep gratitude to the many dedicated staff who have provided such a high quality of care to patients over the past 29 years, and also our sincere thanks to the numerous volunteers who have worked on the wards to support the patients and nurses.

"The league remains steadfast in its belief that beds are a necessary resource in Seaton, and will continue to explore every avenue that might lead to the reopening of the in-patient service in Seaton Hospital.

"At the same time, we would like to emphasise the ongoing work that will be taking place in Seaton Hospital. Whilst it is true that no in-patient beds will be open, there are many more activities carried out at our hospital.

"These include the out-patient clinics which will continue to run, including rheumatology, ear nose and throat, audiology, spinal assessment, and general medicine clinics.

"The ever busy Seaton Hospital physiotherapy department will be continuing at full speed.

"Alongside these the hospital will continue to

Stagecoach hands over South West Trains

STAGECOACH Group has paid tribute to its team of 5,000 South West Trains employees as the company completed its contract with the Department for Transport to run one of Europe's biggest rail networks.

First MTR South Western Trains Limited took over the franchise on August 20th, a franchise held by South West Trains for more than 20 years.

It includes the London Waterloo to Exeter St Davids line, which has stations at Yeovil, Crewkerne, Axminster and Honiton.

Martin Griffiths, Chief Executive of Stagecoach Group, said: "I am very proud of the huge amount of work that's been done over the past two decades to improve rail services for customers travelling with South West Trains.

"This is testament to the commitment of our 5,000-strong team of employees and the great partnership we have with Network Rail and other key suppliers. Collectively, they work hard day in, day out as one railway to deliver a great service to customers."

The South West Trains network today has more rail services than ever before, one of the most reliable train fleets in the country and is carrying double the number of passengers than in 1996 when we took over from nationalised British Rail.

"We've made huge investment to benefit customers and delivered hundreds of millions of pounds in payments to the taxpayer to reinvest in public services.

"It's been a privilege to serve the millions of customers who travel with us every year and I'm very confident we're handing over the network in a good shape to the new operators."

"We have been working closely with First/MTR for several months to make sure they have everything they need and we wish them all the best for the future."

Tim Shoveller, Managing Director for Stagecoach Rail, added: "We've done a huge amount over the last two decades to improve things for our customers with massive investment in every single area of our service."

"Our team will remain focussed on delivering the best service for passengers right up to the very last minute of our franchise, from our ongoing major contribution to the Waterloo development project through to ensuring a smooth handover to the new franchise owner."

"We would like to take the opportunity to thank our customers for the last 21 years, and more recently for their patience during Waterloo works."

"We know that our regular season ticket holders in particular have been significantly disrupted over the past two weeks and had changes to their normal journeys, and we hope that two weeks of free travel will be helpful for those passengers."

The continuing multi-million-pound upgrade of London Waterloo station and associated rail infrastructure will deliver thousands of extra seats and help to increase overall capacity by 30 per cent.

Stagecoach has confirmed that it will be giving two weeks' worth of free travel to its South West Trains monthly and longer season ticket holders for the inconvenience caused as a result of the Waterloo upgrade work.

All 10 weekdays of the upgrade works so far (Monday, August 7th to Friday, August 11th and Monday, August 14th to Friday, August 18th) have been declared 'void days'.

As a result, all passengers with South West Trains monthly and longer season tickets are eligible for a full refund for those 10 days.

Normal Passengers' Charter compensation arrangements will apply for all other tickets.

Fridge-freezer fire in Axminster

FIREFIGHTERS dealt with a fridge-freezer fire in a property in Macford Court, Axminster.

The alarm was raised just after 7am on Saturday, August 19th.

A spokesperson for the fire and rescue service said: "One appliance from Axminster and two from Dorset were mobilised following a call reporting a fire within the kitchen of a domestic property."

"Crews found an American-style fridge-freezer on fire, and set to work with two breathing apparatus wearers, one hose reel jet, and a thermal imaging camera."

"Once the fire was extinguished crews used positive pressure ventilation to help clear smoke from the property."

Arts Council boost for Honiton gallery's education programme

THE Thelma Hulbert Gallery in Honiton has been awarded a significant grant from Arts Council England.

The grant of £49,900 will go towards the continued development of THG's Education programme and their Learning Coordinator post.

It will also help to support their contemporary art exhibition programme and deliver community workshops in the gallery and across East Devon.

Phil Gibby, Area Director, South West, Arts Council England, said: "We're extremely pleased to have awarded Thelma Hulbert Gallery a grant of £49,900 through our National Lottery funded Grants for the arts scheme."

"By using the grant to deliver artist-led workshops, both at the gallery and out in the community, Thelma Hulbert will reach young people and families who might not otherwise have the opportunity to engage in and enjoy arts experiences, supporting our mission of bringing more arts and culture to more people in more places."

THG curator Angela Blackwell said: "We would like to thank Arts Council England for this generous award."

"It will enable us to continue our success as a cultural leader in the South West for access and inclusivity in the arts by working with new partnership organisations as well as more diverse art forms, locations and artists."

"Over the next 15 months, we will be curating new exhibitions and organising activities to build upon our award-winning programme engaging marginalised groups, families and young people."

"We will be working extensively beyond the gallery and more closely with cultural, voluntary and environmental agencies in East Devon."

The THG is one of Honiton's and East Devon District Council's success stories after welcoming more than 8000 visitors this year.

This is in addition to the 3,000 participants they work with across East Devon at outreach events.

Cllr John O'Leary, EDDC lead councillor for culture, said: "THG is a great asset to the region and inspires our community with exhibitions of local and national importance together with a packed programme of activities and workshops for all the community, especially many marginalised and hard-to-reach groups."

Driver charged after motorbike collision on A30

A MAN has been charged in connection with a serious road traffic collision near Yeovil.

The collision occurred at around 1.45pm on Monday, January 9th this year on the A30 at Babylon Hill, just before the Peel Centre retail park.

It involved a black BMW and a white Jinan Qingqi motorcycle.

The rider of the motorcycle, a 28-year-old local man, sustained a fractured neck and back and a punctured lung as a result of the collision.

A 59-year-old Sherborne man has been charged with driving without due care and attention and is due to appear at Weymouth Magistrates' Court today (August 22nd).

Hosepipe Legionnaires warning

THE UK's leading plumber accreditation body is warning householders in Devon and Somerset that the humble hosepipe could be a danger to their drinking water – as well as exposing them to the risk of developing Legionnaires' disease.

Many homeowners don't realise how ill they can become if the water in the hosepipe "backflows" into their drinking water supply, or becomes contaminated by the potentially lethal bacteria which causes Legionnaires' disease.

WaterSafe has now teamed up with renowned health expert Dr Susanne Lee, Director of Legionella Ltd, to develop its top dos and don'ts to help keep customers and their hosepipes healthy and safe.

Its hosepipe tips are:

- DO fit an approved double check valve to hosepipes to prevent any water, or contaminants from the garden, ponds or paddling pools, flowing back into your mains drinking water supply;
- DON'T place hosepipes in drains, garden ponds, buckets or watering cans where they can be submerged as contaminated water could be siphoned back into your homes' drinking water pipework

- DO turn off your hosepipe at the tap and, ideally, fully disconnect it when not in use;
- DO fit a self-closing flow control, such as a trigger spray gun, to prevent it being used when unattended;
- DO keep your hose somewhere cool and out of the sun;
- DO gently run the water out of the hose before you use it – without any form of spray attachment on the end;
- DON'T use a hosepipe that has been sitting around and full of warm water to fill a hot tub. The warm water within the tub will allow any bacteria – including Legionella – to quickly grow.

WaterSafe is encouraging everyone to share its hosepipe safety campaign on social media with the hashtag #Hosepipe Safety.

For more free plumbing advice from WaterSafe, or for help to find a local approved plumber, go to watersafe.org.uk and use the postcode search.

Seaton's Karen completes Pacific cycling challenge

Anders Larsson

*Chief reporter
anders@viewnews.co.uk*

SEATON resident Karen Letherby has praised everyone who helped her smash her Pacific coast cycling challenge fundraising target.

She had set herself a target of at least £2,500 but ended up with more than £4,000, and said: "Having completed my charity fundraising cycle ride from Vancouver in Canada to Imperial Beach in California, I really want to praise the wonderful people who contributed to the Alzheimer's Society, resulting in the fantastic sum of £4,152 being raised."

"I can't thank them enough, including my kind neighbours in Seaton, who donated items for the garage sale as well cash donations."

Karen set out in early June and was on the road for six tough weeks.

She said: "Looking back on my decision to undertake this cycle ride I realise there was a certain element of naivety in that I had never done any kind of cycle touring before and most of the route was unknown territory, although I have been to California before."

"However, when you get to my age, 54, you probably shouldn't spend time sweating the small stuff, if you want to do something it's best to just get on with it."

"Having a charity element also helps in providing motivation and incentive to ensure that you don't give up."

Her partner John was diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease last year, which is why she raised money for Alzheimer's mer's Society.

Looking back on her mammoth challenge, Karen said: "So with no experience of even taking a bike on a train let alone a plane, I headed off with my bike from Axminster train station to fly from London Gatwick to Vancouver on June 2nd and proceeded to cycle most days for the next six weeks until I reached the pier at Imperial Beach on July 14th."

"It turned out to be the adventure of a lifetime, there were so many incredible experiences but the ones that really stand out are: crossing the Canada/USA border; cycling on some fantastic bike trails;

crossing the Golden Gate bridge into San Francisco; cycling through the forests of giant redwood trees; the stunning scenery; cycling from Monterey to Big Sur along what must be one of the most scenic coast roads in the world; seeing sea lions up close and a whale in San Francisco Bay.

"But what was really unexpected was the amazing kindness of the American people.

"I received such a lot of help with directions, with people giving me encouragement, people taking the time to stop and chat, taking me to the supermarkets, and top of the list, a lady called Kim who insisted on cycling 15 miles with me to lead me to my lodging for the night."

"This was in the early days of the trip and I just don't know how I would have got there without her help."

There were some negative experiences as well, and Karen said: "Some of the route was quite dangerous for cyclists, including tunnels and bridges – I had to cross one bridge in the USA on a Saturday lunchtime and received a lot of abuse from car drivers."

"I suffered some issues with heat, particularly away from the coast; one area was in the midst of a heatwave and I found myself cycling in 34 degrees and high humidity."

"I had to stop between 12noon and 5pm until the temperature cooled down a bit and didn't reach my campsite till 8pm."

"But overall this was a tremendous experience and I would do it all again – but at a cooler time of year."

function as a base for community teams, including the rehabilitation team, speech and language therapy, community nursing, school nurse and health visitor teams, and the complex care team.

"There is now an opportunity for those hospital resources left under-utilised by the bed closures to be put to new uses, and the league of friends is currently active in establishing which services might be added to the above list to best serve the local community.

"The league continues to support the Seaton Friends Hospiscare @ Home service, which will now be more vital than ever, with no opportunity to use hospital beds for end of life care."

A spokesperson for Royal Devon & Exeter NHS Foundation Trust, which manages the hospitals, said: "All other services at these hospitals [those in the package] will continue as normal."

"Patients in these areas in medical need of a community in-patient bed will be accommodated at either Tiverton, Sidmouth or Exmouth hospitals, depending on where they live."

"Over the past couple of weeks it has become apparent that the schedule for the closure of the in-patient units needs to be brought forward."

"This is due to the increasing pressures on safely staffing the current configuration of seven community in-patient units."

"Furthermore, now that the workforce HR consultation has been completed, 170 staff can be redeployed into the enhanced community teams and our hospitals to provide extra capacity and resilience to meet the demand for care for the people of Eastern Devon."

Dr Anthony Hemsley, Associate Medical Director at the Royal Devon and Exeter Hospital said: "Although the decision to reduce in-patient beds will only affect a small number of patients per week, we, with the support of the clinical assurance panel, are confident that our plans to provide more care at home are safe and ultimately will help more people to be independent.

"At the point of implementation, we will be able to redirect some of the existing bed-based resource into local community teams."

"Additional staff including community nurses, therapists and personal support workers will be there to provide greater provision and access to care and support."

"However, we know that there is still much more work to be done, particularly around prevention, wellbeing, recruitment of staff and availability of domiciliary care."

"This can only be done in partnership with communities and we at the RD&E look forward to continuing this work."

Rob Sainsbury, chief operating officer for NEW Devon CCG, said: "Reallocating resources away from hospital bed-based care into more home-based and community care will really make a positive difference to people's lives."

Ax-pedition to return next month bigger and better

THE Ax-pedition Charity Cycle Sportive will be back and bigger than ever on Sunday, September 3rd.

Organised by the Rotary Club of Axminster in association with Axminster Tools & Machinery, this year the courses have been amended but still meander around the roads and lanes of East Devon and West Dorset.

This is the third year of Ax-pedition. The Ankle Grinder is a 50 km circuit and the more grueling Cyclone course is 100 km in length.

Rotarian Barrie Castle said: "The ride is open from novices to the more dedicated followers of this increasingly popular sport."

"It is not a race but all times will be recorded by the organisers, so you know how well you performed."

"The ride is organised to meet the standards of British Cycling and is non-profit making. All proceeds this year are going to three nominated charities; The Alzheimer's Society, locally based The Project and the Rotary Club of Axminster, which supports a diversity of both local and international needs."

"To date more than 650 riders have taken part over the two events, raising more than £10,000 for charities."

Start and finish is at Axminster Town FC. More information and entry details are available at www.ax-pedition.co.uk

More to come from Music at the Minster

MUSIC at the Minster has entered the second half of the 2017 season.

The 33rd season of free, lunchtime concerts started in May and runs until October in The Minster, Axminster, each Thursday from 12.30pm.

Organiser Jennifer Royle said: "We have heard wonderful performances that demonstrate the wide range of musical skills that are to be found in Axminster and district."

"These have ranged from the jazz of Clive Smith to the well-formed harmonies of Axminster Chamber Choir and from the amazing keyboard wizardry of Peter Lea Cox and Richard Godfrey to the roof-raising beat of Saxminster."

Many other musical styles have been heard, and what a pleasure it has been to welcome performers from our local schools including St Mary's RC Primary School, Axe Valley Academy and Colyton Grammar School.

"These young musicians showed us that their undoubtedly musical talents and skills are being expertly cultivated by their dedicated teachers and are bringing enjoyment to so many people."

Details of remaining performances can be found in brochures and posters around the town as well as the church porch.

Jennifer added: "Although the concerts are free, and performers give their services freely, we invite donations for the upkeep of the fabric of this ancient church."

"It is always open to serve the needs of our community but the house keeping bills are inevitably extensive and the concert season donations provide invaluable help in fund-raising for this purpose."

"Lunches are available, for which there is a suggested donation to cover the cost of the food."

Swishing party to raise funds for health centre

A SWISHING party (a clothes swapping event to raise money for community projects) will be held at Axminster Health & Wellbeing Centre in Chard Street.

The swishing party is on Saturday, September 2nd from 11am to 4pm.

Centre manager Sam Norris said: "This is an opportunity for you to have fun with clothes, soak up the vintage theme, chat with friends and enjoy our homemade cakes and drinks.

"On the day, bring excellent quality and freshly laundered garments and/or nearly new shoes for 'swapping' (maximum of five items). You'll be met at the door and invited to browse. "The rails will feature dresses, skirts, trousers and tops from size 8 - 18.

"Refreshments will be available and there'll be a small activities area for our younger visitors."

"Thank you to our friendly town businesses including Cloud Nine, The Recycling Shop, Mole Avon, Labels for Less and Trinity House for supplying balloons, mirrors, rails, bags and hangers."

Tickets can be bought from the centre for £5 (Monday-Friday, 9am-5pm), or £6 on the day. Alternatively, call 01297 32331 to reserve your tickets and pick them up when you arrive.

Man suffers head injury in South Street assault

A MAN was taken to hospital with a head injury after being assaulted in South Street, Axminster, in the early hours of Tuesday, August 15th.

An ambulance spokesperson said they were called just before 2.40am, and added: "There was one male casualty with a head injury."

"The casualty was taken to the Royal Devon & Exeter Hospital for treatment."

Police said officers had been called to the scene about an hour earlier, and that officers are following up the incident.

Cash stolen in burglary

POLICE officers are investigating a dwelling burglary at Albert Terrace in North Street, Axminster.

The burglary took place at about 3.15pm on Sunday, August 13th.

Two 'Tyred Dinosaurs' complete cycling challenge

COLYFORD resident Nancy Raine recently completed a 1,300-mile cycle from Land's End to John O'Groats alongside friend Heather Lowe, from Teignmouth.

The pair, who both turned 58 during the cycle, have raised more than £2,000 in aid of Devon Air Ambulance and are still accepting donations.

Nancy worked for Learn Devon and as an exam invigilator and cover supervisor at Colyton Grammar School. She met Heather, who previously worked for Barclays Bank, through a mutual friend who has organised many cycle rides and trips over the past 13 years for a group of people loosely connected with Colyton Grammar, known as the Tyred Dinosaurs.

Both had been keen to try the Land's End to John O'Groats route and, when Sustrans published a book in January 2017 which used cycle tracks and quiet roads to complete challenge in about 1,200 miles, rather than the usual 900, Nancy and Heather thought it was ideal for them.

They arranged accommodation in hostels, B&Bs and cheap hotels along the route - 34 nights in total - and averaged more than 40 miles a day for 33 days without a break, totalling 1,360 miles.

The most either of the women had ever cycled before was five days in a row and just over 40 miles in a day, but they managed to complete three consecutive rides of 50 miles during their challenge, and one day of 59 after inadvertently heading in the wrong direction for four miles. Most of the time they carried all their belongings in panniers on the bikes, with no support vehicle.

Nancy and Heather decided to support Devon Air Ambulance, as this was the charity supported by the Tyred Dinosaurs on their first ride in 2004. Money can still be donated online at <https://mydonate.bt.com/fundraisers/2tyred>. The trip was also documented on Facebook where there updates can still be read by searching for the page 'Two Tyred LEJOG 2017'.

Nancy and Heather commented: "We posted a few lines and photos at the end of each day and also details of the distance and route travelled. Many people looked out for the posts and commented on them, and some days when we were cycling for more than 12 hours people were worrying as to what had happened to us if the day's post hadn't yet appeared. It was lovely to receive support from family and friends and also from people we met along the way."

"We especially appreciated support and donations from members of two local groups - Walk This Way in Teignmouth and also the Aquacise group at the Cliffden Hotel in Teignmouth.

"We left Land's End on June 5th and arrived at John O'Groats on July 7th. The weather was variable - we left Land's End in a Force 10 gale and driving rain and cycled over 50 miles on the hottest day of the year for 41 years! Whilst cycling through Southern Scotland it was usually very cold and wet. We had to acquire additional clothing and generally cycled wearing two jackets each in an attempt to stay warm and dry.

"We took it one day at a time, and treated it as a job - it was what we had to do for the day. We cycled in all weathers and didn't even bother looking at the forecasts after the first day or two. We never once woke up not wanting to do it!"

"We were so lucky to be able to take nearly five weeks out from everyday life to undertake this epic journey. Nancy's husband Dave had put all our routes on a Garmin device and also was able to see where we were at any time - this really helped when we got lost in Bristol and he was able to navigate us safely to our accommodation, albeit through some of the less salubrious areas of the city!"

"Heather's 79-year-old mother raised money from her friends in Cheshire and drove up to the Highlands of Scotland to meet us at John O'Groats at the end of the trip.

"We met so many helpful and interesting people en route - several other people trying to complete LEJOG, a Liberal Democrat candidate two days before the election, an ex-professional ice skater and a world champion porridge maker!

"It was such an amazing experience and we didn't really want it to end. We were never quite sure that we'd actually make it, but what helped was that we're both really positive, determined people and we worked really well together as a team."

Jen jumps for Hospiscare

HONITON'S Jen Beckenham has helped to raise close to £2,000 for Hospiscare after taking part in a tandem skydive last month.

Jen said: "The skydive was one of the best experiences of my life. I loved every minute of it. It was something I would definitely recommend people get involved with."

She admits to some understandable last-minute nerves, however: "The night before and when we were going up in the plane was when I was at my most nervous. I felt a little bit sick."

But those feelings soon vanished.

"Everyone at the skydive centre was so friendly so it made it all the better. Once the jump was over I wanted to go straight back up and do it all again!" Jen continued

Indeed, Jen is hoping for a repeat and already planning another jump next year.

As Jen explains, in supporting Hospiscare she is very much following an established family tradition: "When I was 13, I used to volunteer in one of the charity shops.

"My mum, Caroline currently works as a nurse and my stepdad Peter is involved in the Hospiscare Lottery and is a Volunteer Care Navigator.

"They are always getting involved with sponsored walks and other Hospiscare fundraising events.

"I was a steward on the Men's Walk this year and, of course, also did the skydive."

The jump Jen took part in was 15,000ft and eventually took place after being postponed several times due to adverse weather conditions. She is still collecting sponsorship money and is looking to raise around £1,700 in much needed funds for Hospiscare.

To find out more about doing a skydive for Hospiscare call Tom on 01392 688093 or email t.gilbert@hospiscare.co.uk

GANESHA WHOLEFOODS

The Honiton Store is moving! Find us at 78 High Street Honiton, on 29th August

Ganesha Wholefoods in Honiton is on the move!

Successive stores opened in Honiton and Sidmouth, and in 2011 their son Richard, a keen athlete, member of the Pure Endurance triathlon team and advocate for nutritious food, took over the running of the business.

Ganesha have been trading in Honiton for well over thirty years, so a recent opportunity to acquire a bigger store within the town was met with great excitement. The new shop, which boasts three floors and a better location, is due to open its doors on the 29th August 2017.

From the beginning, the Eastons wanted to create a service that was all about nutritious food. Now, with three successful stores and certification from Organic Farmers and Growers for packing and retailing of organic goods, it is clear that they have done just that. Ganesha Wholefoods is a breath of fresh air. In a society that is largely dominated by inadequate food, it provides a welcome respite. The comprehensive range of quality foods, ethical products and herbal remedies, all tended to by a friendly and knowledgeable team, feels unequivocally wholesome.

To celebrate their move, Ganesha is running a series of special offers in its new store. Not only that, but the first 50 customers through the door will receive a goodie bag!

So treat yourself. Come and visit Ganesha Wholefoods at 78 High Street Honiton, on the 29th August to take advantage of their celebratory offers. A full list of the offers available can be found on their website: www.ganeshawholefoods.co.uk

Supporting young people on the path to better mental health

A monthly column by KERRY CABLE from the peer support network for young people with mental health issues, based in Axminster and Chard

After the trailblazing success of Duncan Macmillan's 'Every Brilliant Thing' at the 2014 Edinburgh Fringe Festival, there are so many pieces centred around depicting mental illness that, this year, they have created a brand new award to celebrate them.

Most are created by young people, in their 20s, with portrayals of mental illness that are often drawn from their own experience.

It's no surprise to me that fringe theatre, with its loud and proud artists, actors and writers, is finally starting to bring many of these issues out into the harsh spotlight of the stage.

It's very telling, to me, that a large majority seem to be about dealing with the symptoms of depression.

I think, as a nation, we are starting to see 'low level' depression as its own entity - an understandable symptom of the rigours of modern life.

However, it is still a mental illness. Whether it is mild, severe, fleeting or long lasting.

Trying to separate it because it is more commonplace only increases the stigma and prejudice surrounding the term 'mental illness'.

Unfortunately, 'mental illness' is becoming commonplace and the more we try to separate the everyday folk (our friends, family, colleagues, children) from the term, the less people will speak out when they fear they could be suffering.

This ultimately delays them receiving support and means that they have to bypass the simpler, first line advice that can often get us back on track without drugs or inpatient care.

For example, if you have a cold it is still considered to be a physical illness - so why must things get so severe before people are willing to class it as a mental illness?

The media certainly have a lot to answer for when it comes to their portrayal of the people suffering from mental illnesses.

Whether it's books, newspapers, television or films there are a myriad of examples of common myths and preconceptions of mental illness being strongly perpetuated.

One example is of a character in the series 'Wonderland' (2000) who has schizophrenia and promptly decides to go on a shooting spree and then tries to murder a doctor.

The series was set in a psychiatric ward and was taken off the air after so many complaints from mental health organisations.

These are just the really obvious ones. Whenever I watch the news and someone has done something awful to an animal or human being it is so often, rather quickly followed up with "and he/she had suffered from depression at some point in his life".

And while that may be true, to continually link violence with mental illness isn't helping anyone, especially those who are suffering.

It has been shown time and time again that sufferers are far more likely to be victims of crime than perpetrators.

It is refreshing to know that we have a generation of performers, writers and artists that are willing to show the reality of mental illness, the loneliness and self stigma, not just exploiting it for shameful sensationalism.

Many people are saying that speaking out about their depression has become the new 'coming out of the closet' - to be honest, I can understand why. I hope this will continue to change.

Wetlands welcomes primary school teachers for course

SEATON Wetlands hosted 26 primary school teachers from across Devon to help them use the outdoor environment to develop mathematical reasoning and problem solving skills for children.

The day-long course entitled 'Developing Young Mathematicians Outdoors' was delivered by education rangers from East Devon District Council's countryside team with support from school improvement advisor and curriculum consultant David Weatherly.

Mr Weatherly said: "The day illustrated to teachers how easily they can use the outdoors as a normal part of everyday learning in school.

"Carrying out mathematical and scientific investigations and problem solving outdoors provides real world contexts for learning that make sense to children and young people.

"As a result, their levels of engagement and motivation to learn increase."

"Although the day was based at the beautiful Seaton Wetlands the East Devon education rangers demonstrated how easily any of the investigations the teachers trialled could be adapted to their school grounds, local park or nearby stream."

"Above all the message was

Chief reporter | anders@viewnews.co.uk

one of seeing the outdoors as a resource for learning as routinely as teachers might use text books or laptops with pupils - and the outdoors at Seaton Wetlands provided a wonderful context to emphasise this."

East Devon District Council's Environment portfolio holder, Cllr Tom Wright, said: "The East Devon education rangers provide a wonderful service taking day-to-day school lessons into the natural environment.

"Sites such as Seaton Wetlands provide a range of opportunities for teachers and school children to enjoy time spent learning outdoors.

"The professional development course offered by the East Devon District Council Countryside service was well attended by teachers from across Devon, demonstrating the value teachers place on the benefits of outdoor education."

They were quick to praise the team spirit, saying: "It's a huge team effort and everybody does their bit so everyone also gets the chance to enjoy themselves."

"We've had a fantastic week, and we've been really lucky with the weather."

Outgoing chairman Kate Boalch stressed she will continue to be involved, saying: "This is not goodbye as I will be continuing as regatta secretary."

"I seem to have taken on various secretarial responsibilities over the last couple of years, so thought this would be a good way to continue my support, but let someone else be the 'face' of regatta."

Sundial recognition for fundraising couple

Anders Larsson
Chief reporter
anders@viewnews.co.uk

A DALWOOD couple have been recognised for keeping their garden open to the public for more than 40 years and raising in excess of £20,000 for good causes in the process.

Mary and John Benger of Burrow Farm Gardens were presented with a sundial by The National Garden Scheme (NGS).

The NGS has been raising money for nursing and caring charities for 90 years and this year has donated £3million to deserving causes among them Macmillan Cancer Support, Marie Curie and Hospice UK.

Mr and Mrs Benger have been an integral part of that fundraising for more than 40 years.

An NGS spokesperson said: "The scheme, and this generosity, would not exist without the owners who share their wonderful gardens with visitors.

"One of the longest serving in Devon is Burrow Farm Gardens, which has completed over 40 years of support for the NGS.

"To mark this milestone and to thank them for donating £22,000 to the scheme, an engraved sundial was presented to Mary and John, who started creating their 13 acre garden well over half a century ago.

"Many gardens get tired with time, not so Burrow Farm where every visit reveals new innovative planting, colour and imagination.

"There are rhododendrons and azaleas in spring, roses in high summer and later swathes of autumn colour.

"Springs provide water for streams and rills that tumble down to ponds and a lake beside the ancient Roman clay pit now surrounded by wild flowers.

"From every part of the garden, seen across sweeping lawns and past ancient oaks there are wonderful views of rolling Devon farmland."

Mrs Benger said: "We certainly felt very honoured to receive this sundial."

Keen to make the most of the sundial, she added: "But since they gave it to us we haven't had a sunny day until this morning!"

The garden is open daily from 10am-6pm from April 1st until October 31st. Entry is £7 for adults and £1 for children.

■ MEMBERS of the Kilmington branch of the Royal British Legion enjoy their summer social

High spirits at summer barbecue

ABOUT 100 members of the Royal British Legion branch in Kilmington joined friends and other villagers at the home of chairman Stafford Seward for an evening barbecue.

Branch member Sandra Ingles said: "The setting was perfect, with the East Devon countryside looking at its very best.

"The branch committee had worked extremely hard to ensure that the occasion went like clockwork: from efficient parking arrangements to a well-supported raffle, a bar that seemed to be kept busy all evening, and even a bouncy castle to keep the children happy.

"The chefs prepared a delicious and very plentiful supper from the barbecue, followed by a good selection of puddings.

"A happy buzz of chat and laughter could be heard throughout the evening, plus the occasional song as the evening progressed, all evidence of a totally successful event.

"There can be no doubt that members will be very happy to attend a similar gathering next summer."

ST BARTHOLOMEWS STREET FAIR IN CREWKERNE

Fun Fair - Market Stalls - Entertainment - Food & Drink

FRIDAY 1ST 9:30AM-11PM & SATURDAY 2ND 9:30AM-11:30PM SEPTEMBER 2017

ROTARIANS READY FOR CREWKERNE FAIR

ROTARY Club of Crewkerne District are putting the finishing touches to plans for St Bartholomew's Street Fair (Crewkerne Fair), which is due to be held on Friday 1st and Saturday 2nd September 2017.

Crewkerne Fair is run by Rotary Club of Crewkerne District Trust volunteers. It's held under a charter which dates from around 1215. St Bartholomew's Fair is more than just a funfair. The very earliest fairs were street markets, and this proud tradition is still going strong today. Events over the weekend include a street market, entertainment and, of course, the fun fair.

"The fair is an iconic feature of Crewkerne, and is well attended by the local community. We look forwards to another great success this year" said Sandra Shore, fair organiser. "We would also like to take this opportunity to thank you for your patience and for your compliance with the road safety measures."

A huge thanks go to all those who have sponsored the event: A.J Wakely & Sons, Ariel Atom, Bilby's Cafe, Crewkerne Town Council, Cyclelogical, Lidl, Numatic International, Oscars Wine Bar and Williamsons Solicitors.

For any queries about the event or to get involved, please visit our stall in Market Square during the fair or contact us using the details on our website: www.crewkernefair.co.uk. Full details of traffic restrictions are provided on the site.

The club welcomes new people from all walks of life who want to use their expertise for good: people whose sense of responsibility inspires them to give back to their communities. If you would like to get involved with the club you don't have to be invited, simply get in touch and arrange to meet the club by calling Martin on 07929894396 or emailing membership@crewkernedistrictrotary.org.uk

Haynes Motor Museum

IT'S A Rare Breeds Show but not as you know it! Haynes have added an innovative twist to the much loved concept of a show dedicated to the British love affair with rare breeds, but this time of the mechanical variety not canine. The tenth Rare Breeds 100 show will be held at Haynes International Motor Museum on Sunday 3rd September and once again will feature a glorious display of many rare vehicles collected together specially for one day only.

The show caters for those vehicles which were produced in small numbers, one offs, vehicles with unusual modifications, or perhaps it is the only one left! If you are a motoring enthusiast who wants to see something completely different then this is the show for you. There will be well known marques you have heard of and some you would have to research, the more unusual the better!

As well as the show vehicles there will be a chance for visitors to view the Museum collection which has its own share of 'rare breeds'. Entry to the show is free with full Museum admission.

During the day there will be a chance to watch the amazing show entries parade around and in the afternoon Moments in Time will take place. This is a snapshot of the Museum Collection and a chance to see some of the Museum's iconic vehicles running on the Haynes Lawn. And if this was not enough Sports and Supercar Sixty vehicle entries will demonstrate on the Museum Test Circuit.

Prizes will be awarded for the vehicles which the judges to be the Best in Class and the winner of each Best in Class will forward for Best in Show and a special award for Spirit of the Event, as well as Best Restoration.

Certainly not to be missed, the event is growing each year, with each show providing something unique and surprising for both visitors and organisers. Of course end your day with one of the Museums famous West Country cream teas served in Café 750! To find out more about the Rare Breeds 100 show and to purchase tickets online visit our website www.himm.co.uk or call 01963 440804.

5 little ways to spark creativity in your child's everyday life

www.netmums.com

IT MIGHT seem chaotic – and almost always messy - but being creative isn't just about finger painting, or hiding under a table pretending to be in a spaceship on the way to Mars. It's about your little one growing the ability to think in unusual ways, solve problems and ultimately pave their way to becoming an adult.

By the time they're three, your child's brain has formed an incredible 1,000 trillion connections between neurons, which is why it's so important for your pre-schooler to embrace curiosity and their natural sense of wonder.

Creative play stimulates this amazing fizzing brain, and with a little help from you, they can thrive - whether they want to be an artist or an astronaut.

1. Encourage simple creative conversations

There's nobody your child learns more from at this age than you, their parent.

Encourage spontaneous creative conversations as part of day-to-day life, and imaginative thinking will come more naturally to them.

This can be as easy as playing word association games in the car on the way to the shops, or making up a simple story together before bed.

Try using story prompts: questions like 'Where would you go if you were a bird?' provide a jumping off point to see where their incredible imagination takes them.

2. Give them their freedom - sometimes!

Every once in a while, set aside some time to let your child 'take control'.

This could be as simple as going to the park for half an hour - and walking at their pace. Tell them they can make the plan and encourage them to talk about all the fantastical things they could do once they get there.

Follow them as they explore the world - asking about what they can see or imagine. And if you do end up spending your afternoon chasing imaginary dragons or pretending to eat mud pies? All the better.

3. Talk about your favourite part of the day

Introduce a simple and quick bedtime ritual which encourages you both to talk about positive experiences in your day.

As you're putting them to bed, share your favourite part of the day first, and then ask them what theirs was.

Doing this lets them reflect on (and helps you understand!) what they enjoy doing, often creatively, from a young age. If you don't always have a lot of time, this is a simple activity to help your child think in a playful way.

4. Don't over-plan playtime

Play doesn't need to be rigorously planned - and in fact, freedom to play in an unstructured way is vital for every pre-schooler's development.

For example, give your child a box of bricks and watch what they build, rather than suggesting what they create.

Afterwards, ask them to talk about what it is and what it can do (a fearsome dragon? What does he eat?). Try and be specific with your praise to make it feel more genuine, highlighting details such as the shape or the colours.

5. Let them make mess

A little messiness can be a good thing once in a while.

Instead of standing guard worrying about the carpet, set aside space and time (and even protective plastic sheeting) so that your child can be free to get messy to their heart's content.

Feeling safe to try whatever comes into their head will help your little artist feel more confident in their creative abilities. And if you're really lucky, you might be able to convince them that tidying up is a fun game, too.

Clear up after your dog please!

■ ONCE again can I use your newspaper to ask the person walking their dog in The Elms, Colyford, to please clean up after their dog has fouled?

The last letter printed worked a treat but unfortunately it has all started again. The residents of The Elms are now getting fed up with this ongoing problem. It's the same dog as the fouling is occurring in the same places as before, and dogs are creatures of habit.

This is obviously happening at night so not to be seen. I have once again spoken to the council and they have said to get the description of the dog and owner, date/time, etc - or even a picture - and they will issue a fixed penalty notice of £80.

Dogs should be watched when out exercising and - you know who you are - so please pick up.

Constant reorganisation will not save NHS money

■ IN the words of Victor Mel-drew: "I don't believe it!" Only this is not funny.

I'm referring, of course, to the shock and upset caused by the decision of the CCG to impose the closure of the Seaton Hospital beds with the chairman of Devon County Council's Health and Adult Care Scrutiny committee Sarah Randall Johnson leading the Conservative majority to block a referral to the government and "abusing her position to prevent proper discussion" (according to Cllr Martin Shaw, county councillor for Seaton & Colyton).

Is this democracy? This decision has been made by unelected people who don't live here and endorsed by people who don't live in this part of Devon. I suggest they would do well to look at a map and realise we have no community health provision in this area.

Sidmouth's beds will be needed by its own residents;

Tiverton and Exmouth are much further away even than our hospital. Are we to deduce that the original bed blocking at Exeter will return with a vengeance? Perhaps the 72 beds taken away from East Devon are lining the corridors in readiness? Actually, where have they gone? Another waste?

Our GPs must be distraught. They have backed us all the way and have been ignored. They are the ones who will have to sort out the mess left by the CCG. Their stress levels, already high and causing early retirement, will be even greater when they have to deal with an increase in the number of patients suffering from stress related illnesses.

We are now facing privatisation by the back door courtesy of NHS Property Services. How arrogant to allow rooms paid for by our Seaton Hospital League of Friends to be rented (or sold?) out. I would have thought the charity commissioners would have something to say about that.

Never take the generous efforts of volunteers for granted. This disastrous decision may well jeopardise the future of voluntary giving, though praise and thanks are due to the hardworking LoF volunteers who raised £1,295 on July 15th at the summer fair just before the final decision was made - bless them.

But well done and thanks to Martin Shaw, Claire Wright and Tony Simpson and all who have fought valiantly for our community hospitals.

Shame on our MPs who have not yet learnt that constant reorganisation does not save money - in fact, the opposite. The NHS needs more money - not less - and for it to be spent wisely.

Welcome new trade with open arms

■ WITH regard to the danger outside Lawsons' former premises in Axminster, which poses the greater threat - the use of a loading bay for its designated purpose, as happens in other area of the town, or the attempted navigation of our town by huge, heavily-laden, multi-wheeled articulated lorries?

With five empty premises in the town centre, any enterprise which brings people and trade into town should be speedily welcomed.

BRYN THOMAS
Axminster

Equal access should be provided for all

■ KEN GORF wrote an interesting piece in Pulman's View (August 1st edition) headlined 'Seaton should learn a lesson from a Portuguese city'.

His eight points were pertinent but could I add a ninth plea please?

How is it that I can still count on one hand shops that are 'wheelchair and buggy friendly' here?

When one is able to walk, the world's a huge place. For many of us, it isn't anymore - our world's become extremely small.

Even a simple visit to the dentist requires a prior call and my husband then has to get their ramp and fit it into position.

However, many times I've been tipped and almost fallen from my wheelchair because of the slope of the road in Fore Street, wonky kerbs, etc. Despite this, the dentist does have a ramp!

I remember well my walking years here, when I was able to go into each and every shop. May I use one of Ken's words here? I'm not 'bleating', I'm just asking for the able bodied to give a thought for the many, now disabled, who cannot enter a bank, many shops, cafes, bars, etc.

The Cloth Shop and florists were always my favourite. Their owners will remember me well, and it saddens to have to wait outside now and send my hubby in with a note to buy my purchases.

So please, Ken, think on - cobbled streets sound wonderful for pedestrians only but Seaton's roads and kerbs could be made a little 'friendlier'.

GILLY MILLS

Why such a lack of effective action?

■ I WRITE further to your Seaton front page story on July 25th headlined 'Former resident says EDDC landlords failed to deal with concerns about flat'.

It appears that EDDC housing officers can't even tell the difference between homeless intruders dossing in stairwells and tenants' guests'.

If there were several 'incidents' involving one or two tenants and their 'guests' which were fully investigated and firm action taken against the tenants then...

A) How many is 'several' in EDDC terms?

B) Why were several incidents allowed to occur anyway if firm action was taken and why was it still occurring when I left in late 2016?

C) Why did the housing staff request the doors be reinstated if EDDC took 'firm action' against the tenants involved?

The reason complaints stopped after I moved out is because it was left to me to do all the complaining. Other tenants had given up because they all knew that EDDC wouldn't take any effective action.

The general attitude that it would take a disaster to happen before EDDC would do anything prevailed - just as happened at Grenfell Tower.

On the police comment I would ask who defines what 'dealt with appropriately' means?

Appropriate for who? The police could always have removed any intruders under the public order act but chose not to for reasons of their own.

Samswara's September spice

THE SOUNDS and flavours of India return to Ilminster Arts Centre on Friday, September 15th with a performance by virtuoso musicians Ricky Romain (sitar) and Jon Sterckx (tabla).

This is the duo's fourth visit to the Arts Centre - they are back by popular demand!

Playing together as Samswara, Ricky and Jon have been thrilling and entertaining audiences throughout the UK since 2001, developing a reputation among Indian music lovers nationally and internationally for their engaging and dynamic performances that begin with slow, meditative melodies unfolding into complex exciting rhythmical interplay.

Drawing on skills developed from years of dedication and practice within the musical genre of Indian classical music (Ricky over forty years, Jon over twenty), the pair have developed an ever-evolving trust and delight in each other's musical virtuosity. Their on-stage ease is never compromised by complacency - they are still able to surprise and challenge each other with playful musical dialogues that intrigue and delight their audience.

In 2014 Ricky and Jon were voted the 'Best Group' in the MTM South West Asian and Ethnic Minorities awards 2014, hosted by Radio Mast FM, the first Asian radio station in the South West and South Wales.

"The brilliant sitar of Ricky Romain in duet with Jon Sterckx's tabla wizardry was a first class example of musicians "playing off" each other, their evident joy never becoming indulgent, and never compromising the aims of the music" - Colin Sell, BBC Radio 4

To complement the music, a delicious pre-show curry will be served, followed by a dessert and coffee. In previous years these events have sold out, so advance booking is strongly recommended.

Samswara play at Ilminster Arts Centre at the Meeting House on Friday, September 15th at 8pm. Tickets are £14, and a pre-show supper is available for £14. For more details and to book call 01460 54973 or visit the website at www.themeetinghouse.org.uk

A stirring cinematic tribute to one of the twentieth century's defining events

■ Fionn Whitehead in Dunkirk

IN MAY 1940, Germany advanced into France, trapping hundreds of thousands of British and Allied soldiers on the beaches of Dunkirk, with seemingly little hope of survival. In the uncompromising, powerful film 'Dunkirk', we follow the stories of a few individuals involved, on land, sea and air.

As RAF Spitfires scramble to engage the enemy in the skies, and attempt to protect the defenceless men below, hundreds of small boats manned by the military, as well as ordinary citizens, are mounting a desperate rescue effort to save even a small fraction of their army. The results became the stuff of historical legend, with more than 300,000 soldiers safely evacuated.

In director Christopher Nolan's capable hands the evacuation of Dunkirk becomes an immersive, intense experience.

It's short on talk but Hans Zimmer's brilliant score with its ticking-clock tension says all that needs to be said.

Starring: Cillian Murphy, Kenneth Branagh, James D'Arcy, Tom Hardy, Mark Rylance, Harry Styles, and Jack Lowden.

Screenings at The Beehive on Friday, August 25th and Saturday, August 26th at 7.30pm. Tickets are adults £6.50, U16s £5.50, Family Ticket £20. Booking is advisable.

Read Easy Honiton

READEASY Honiton has presented another certificate to a Reader who has successfully completed one of their courses. Grant Haysom started the initial course 'Yes We Can Read' in March 2017 and has significantly improved his reading skills by completing the course. He has made such a success of this that he is starting work with his Coach on improving his writing.

Grant said about having had the opportunity to take the course, "I was not given the opportunity to learn to read at school, as my teachers seemed to ignore me and after a time I was left behind. It is just fantastic that I have now had this opportunity at my stage in life and it has made a huge difference to me, to what I am able to do and in particular to my confidence. I can't thank ReadEasy enough for opening this door on to a new world for me and I would definitely encourage anyone who struggles with their reading to give it a go. In particular I would like to thank my coach Lesley, who has been amazing".

Lesley, his coach, said "It has been an honour and a pleasure to teach somebody who has been so enthusiastic to learn and to see his confidence grow. I look forward to working with Grant on improving his handwriting".

Grant was presented with his certificate last Friday, 4th August, by the Chairman of ReadEasy Honiton, Colin Sherwood, at Honiton Library, where Grant received his training, with his Coach, Lesley Percival. Colin said, "It is wonderful to see people like Grant take up the challenge of learning to read in adulthood. It is not easy to put yourself forward and admit that you have this limitation to your life, so I admire greatly anyone who can do that. It is so gratifying for everyone involved, especially our Coaches, to see our Readers progress through the process and then make what is effectively a new life for themselves, and I am always proud when I have the honour of presenting certificates like this".

Grant is the fifth Reader that ReadEasy Honiton have seen complete their initial course, some of whom have moved on to learn to write or to advance to the next stage, which is called 'Moving Ahead'. Currently they have a further 8 people in the process of going through the initial course. Colin joins Grant in encouraging anyone over 18 who cannot read, or read well, to contact him on 01404 42130 or by email on c.j.sherwood@btinternet.com, so that they too can make a life-changing decision. All ReadEasy courses are free of charge.

Colin is also keen to hear from anyone who might like to join ReadEasy, either as a Coach or as a Management Committee member. # Fishing in beautiful surroundings STILLWATERS LAKE is a beautiful lake situated in the heart of the Yarcombe Valley at Moorhayne farm owned by Michael and Caroline Ford.

The lake was built nearly 20 years ago and was intended to be used as a quiet fishing area where those interested in having an away from it all fishing day can come and enjoy the peace of the area away from the rushing world.

Michael Ford says that you cannot hear a car from any major road but you might from time to time hear an aeroplane or the singing of every type of country bird.

The lake is one acre and is designed so that no more than 3 people fish it at any one time. If a family wishes to take the lake then there is an exception in that all the family who come can fish. Michael Ford is very ready to give lessons to young people who up to the age of 12 can come and fish for half price and very often no charge is made if the child shows keenness. It is quite possible for disabled fishermen in wheel chairs to fish and there are facilities near by.

The lake is approximately 1 acre in size and has a small fishing hut, barbecue and comfortable chairs which people can use, so the wife can come for her afternoon out while the husband fishes.

The lake has some wild brown trout, some blue trout and some reared brown trout but mainly there are rainbows. "It is strange that they all seem to live together because I thought that rainbows killed other species" says Michael Ford however by the returns of fish every kind is caught.

Visitors are warned to use 10lb breaking strain of gut because some fish are running up to that size and over.

The lake is open from February to December and there is a rule that people should telephone before coming to book (the majority do on 01404 861284).

Michael Ford welcomes people who wish to take the whole lake for a session to themselves at no extra cost because he understands how important it is to have uninterrupted peace when fishing.

Stillwaters has a fresh water stream flowing through it and has sparkling water. There is a boat that can be used as well under supervision.

Corporate bodies are welcome to entertain their guests.

For further information please contact the address above or ring on 01404 861284 to book your day, half day or evening session.

"Don't miss out on this beautiful place"

I Can't Believe It's Not Buddy

TALENTED singer and Holly lookalike, Spencer Jordan is proud to appear in this fantastic musical homage to his idol Buddy Holly. The fast-paced, hit touring show 'I Can't Believe It's Not Buddy' is playing at Axminster Guildhall on Thursday, September 7th and it's set to be a spectacular night when it hits town.

Spencer's vocals were described as "spot-on" by Vintage Rock magazine, which went on to note that "he not only gets the look and sound right, but also the stage moves that characterised Lubbock's most famous son". It could be the famous Texan himself!

The members of the band, the Copy-Cat Crickets, have backed the biggest names in the world of rock n roll, including the Everly Brothers, George Harrison and the late, great Chuck Berry.

The show will take you on an exciting and, at times, emotional journey through the music and life of Buddy & the Crickets, from 'Blue Days' to 'True Love Ways'. With "astonishingly authentic recreations" of all the hits and more, you'll be transported back to the age of the record hop, the drive-in diner and the soda shop. To a time when teenagers ruled the dance-halls of Britain, and you're sure to feel sixteen again as you re-live the magical music of that golden age.

Win a pair of tickets to see 'I Can't Believe It's Not Buddy'

To be in with a chance of winning a pair of tickets to the show, simply answer the following question:

Which famous brothers have the Copy-Cat Crickets previously backed?

Send your answer on a postcard to:
Buddy Comp, View from Newspapers, Unit 3, St Michael's Business Centre, Church Street, Lyme Regis, Dorset DT7 3DB.

Or email rob.coombe@viewnews.co.uk

Entries must be received by midday on Friday, September 1st. Winners will be selected at random. Please include a contact telephone number.

You'll hear the fascinating true stories behind the songs, from the early rockabilly numbers, to the last song Buddy Holly ever wrote. Along the way you'll discover which famous movie star had a hand in writing the million-seller 'That'll Be The Day' and which band member married the real 'Peggy Sue'.

By the end of the show you'll know why theatre audiences all over the country have been saying 'I Can't Believe It's Not Buddy'.

The show is for one night only, so book your tickets fast by calling the box office on 01297 33595 (Archway Bookshop, Axminster) or 01308 424901 (Bridport TIC) or via the website www.wegottickets.com.

PLASTERING, PAINTING AND DECORATING

The image is a composite of two photographs. The top photograph shows a close-up of a hand holding a trowel and applying a grey, textured material, likely plaster or render, onto a vertical surface. The bottom photograph shows a person's hands wearing a blue glove, applying a white, viscous sealant or paint to a brick wall using a brush or roller. The overall theme is the company's range of building services.

What a difference 100 years makes: Ford marks centenary of Model TT commercial vehicle

YOU'VE heard of the Ford Model T, but how about the Model TT? Though less well-known, it also had a big impact – as the forerunner to the modern day van and pickup, including today's Transit.

First launched 100 years ago, in 1917, the Model TT was Ford's first purpose-built one-tonne van. Owners could customise the chassis with a cargo bed to transport everything from letters to fuel – just as they can today in the 2017 Ford Transit Custom.

The Model TT was first launched in the U.S. and later built at Ford's Trafford Park factory in Manchester.

The Model TT van was longer and stronger than the Model T car, with a cab that could seat one driver and one passenger. The engine was started using a cranking handle on the front. For a smoother ride, customers could choose modern air-filled rear tyres instead of solid rubber.

"It is amazing that while in some ways today's vans are a million miles from the Model TT in how they have come on, they fundamentally do the same job as they were designed to do 100 years ago – providing a flexible means of keeping businesses on the move," said Hans Schep, general manager, Commercial Vehicles, Ford of Europe.

One hundred years later, Ford now offers the best-selling commercial vehicle range in Britain and across Europe, with four commercial vehicles now carrying the iconic Transit nameplate – Transit, Transit Custom, Transit Connect and Transit Courier – as well as the Ford Ranger pickup.

In the UK alone, Ford has maintained market leadership in the commercial vehicle sector for 51 years – ever since the Ford Transit was introduced in 1965. In 2016, Ford recorded its highest-ever year of commercial vehicle sales with 118,000 units.

Transit sales passed its first million milestone in 1976, rapidly passing the next in 1985, 1994, 2000, 2005, 2010 and 2013, which lined up end-to-end would circumnavigate the globe. On average, customers have bought a new Transit every 180 seconds during its lifetime.

A new study, which explores the use of brand words in the British dialect, reveals that the British public now commonly uses the word "Transit" as a generic term for van. The study of 2,000 consumers, conducted by Census Wide, reveals that almost a quarter used the word "Transit" to describe a typical van, and that 46 per cent of Brits believe that a "Transit" refers to a specific size.

Later this year Ford is launching 20 new plug-in hybrid (PHEV) Transit Custom vans - that reduce local emissions by running solely on electric power for the majority of inner-city trips – on a 12-month trial in and around London.

Among those taking part in the trial are the Metropolitan Police and British Gas, which will allow both Ford and the city of London to explore how electrified vans can contribute to cleaner air targets while boosting productivity for operators in urban conditions. The Transit Custom PHEV van is planned for commercial introduction in 2019, part of Ford's $4.5 billion investment into electrified vehicles by 2020.

Staying within the speed limit makes you and everyone else safer, says GEM

ROAD safety and breakdown organisation GEM Motoring Assist is urging all drivers to stay within speed limits on every journey. This, says GEM, is a key part of reducing collisions and casualties on our roads.

The advice comes as police officers join with colleagues across Europe for a week of enhanced speed checks, using a variety of enforcement tools.

GEM road safety officer Neil Worth said: "One of the most important things we can all do when at the wheel is to drive within the speed limit at all times on journeys. It's a vital part of taking personal responsibility for our own safety – and that of others – when we are driving."

"That's because research categorically shows that reduced speeds mean fewer collisions, and reduced severity of collisions. For example, an overall 1mph reduction in speed results in an average five per cent reduction in collisions."

But driving within speed limits cannot make us safe on its own, according to Neil Worth. "We need to ensure that we're alert, observant and courteous at all times, that we use well maintained cars and that we always keep a safe distance from the vehicle in front. This can make all the difference, not only for us as drivers but also for those who share the roads with us."

Top tips for slowing down

- Don't rush on a journey. Leave earlier and ensure you have plenty of time, with no reason to speed.
- Keep a close eye out for speed limit signs, and watch for clues that the speed limit may soon be about to change.
- Scan the speedometer frequently so you always know your own speed.
- Always ask yourself: is my speed both legal and safe?

After all, the speed limit is just that – a limit, not a target, and there will be circumstances when you will feel much safer driving below the limit.

Higher penalties

A 'speeding ticket' will result in three points on your driving licence and a fine of £100. However, the system of fining changed in April, so serious 'speeders' now face fines of up to 150 per cent of their weekly salary, with six penalty points and/or disqualifications of between seven and 56 days.

Top three finishes for Chard's Potter

HONITON RUNNING CLUB

with Judy Davey

SEVEN members made the long journey to TYWYN in mid Wales to take part in the Rotary Club's Race the Train event.

There were several races to choose from but all the HRC members took on the main 14-mile event which started with the whistle of the train as it leaves the station and goes out to the end of the railway line where the it turns around and returns.

Following torrential rain in the terrain was particularly challenging with more mud than the race has ever seen which made climbing half way up a mountain even harder.

The train took 1 hour 47 minutes and unfortunately all HRC runners took a little longer! Mark Newson finished 217th in 1:58, Steve Davey 226th in 1:59, Judy Davey 325th in 2:07 (2nd in age category), Howard Bidmead 484th in 2:19, Clare Melbourne and Janice Newson ran together to finish 696th in 2:43.

Clare loves a good Park Run and couldn't miss the opportunity to run the Aberystwyth one even though she knew she was doing 14 miles later in the day.

Her partner Jay Sweetman, who is nursing an injury came 751st in 2:54.

There were 830 finishers.

The annual event raises funds to restore the beautiful village church.

Three AVR's took part in the FROME SPRINT TRIATHLON on Sunday. This comprised a 400m pool swim, 25k bike and a 5k run.

STEVIE Potter was out to finish her Sprint Triathlon Season with a bang at the weekend in the Buskin Waymouth Classic Triathlon, 1500m open water swim, 40k cycle and a 10k run.

With the waters calm, Stevie was off to a good start but getting a little tangled at times in the field of 144, exiting the water Stevie in a time of 24m 06s with a good transition it was soon into the saddle for the 40k cycle into the Dorset countryside.

Stevie was having a good race and crossed into transition in 1h 19m 07s.

It was now out on the final leg with a 10k run to the line out through the nature reserve where she finished in a combined time of 2h 31m 51s taking third female and second in age cat 38th/144.

New season looming large

A CHARD RFC squad made up of both first and second xv players welcomed WELLINGTON for a pre-season game.

Wellington scored in the first 20 minutes but an excellent Chard defence ensured that this would be the only time the visitors got on the score sheet. This was an encouraging performance by Chard which saw skipper Ryan Helliar, Nick Hyslop, Doug Herbert and Scott Johnson amongst the scorers in the 25-5 victory.

Chard 1st XV's opening league game will be at home on Saturday, September 2nd (3pm ko) against Truro. The 2nd XV travel to Wiveliscombe.

There was a good turn out for the 3rds pre-season game against WYVERN. Ash Dart made his debut and had an outstanding game.

Wyvern were dominant from the start and showed why they play two leagues above with some well worked moves and slick passing, but Chard didn't give up and with ball in-hand they looked as good as the Somerset 1 team at times. Brian Sugar, Mike Farthing and Jock McKerrow were on the score sheet for Chard who were beaten 64-17.

This was a landmark game for the Carnell family as Martin and his two sons Rhys and Noah played their first senior game together.

Chard 3rd XV start their season with a home game against Cheddar Valley on September 16th.

Chard hosted an RFU #INNERWARRIOR event on Friday night, inviting ladies who were curious about playing Rugby to join them in a training event at the club which was organised by Liz George and Tanya Poole.

The 40 that attended received lots of encouragement especially the 14 that where trying the sport for the very first time. After the session awards were given out to Jade Mowlem, Michelle Lawrence and Kirsty Carlos for outstanding effort.

Organiser Liz George said that the event was 'A fantastic success' and was grateful for support of Paul Cox and the RFU, the sponsors, coaches and helpers for making the night possible.

Chard Ladies will be making their debut in the Somerset cup this season and have a number of friendly games arranged.

If you are 17 and over and would like to play with the Chard Ladies training is held at the clubhouse on Monday evenings from 7pm, for more information contact Liz George on 07764 857514

The Ladies first friendly of the season will be at Yeovil festival on September 3rd.

Those who were affected were given the opportunity to return when the course was re-opened a little later, but all declined – and entered nil returns.
